

Los Angeles Times

Thursday November 17, 2005

GOING OUT BUZZ CLUBS

*Home Edition, Calendar Weekend, Page E-16
Calendar Desk
13 inches; 471 words*

By Heidi Siegmund Cuda,

Last Thursday night was sizzling. While Randy Jackson was dining at Katana on the Strip, singer Clay Aiken was making ladies swoon at the Kodak Theatre, where he brought to life a sweet Christmas fable he'd written. Rapper-actress Eve celebrated her birthday with pals at Bella, before heading over to the Cabana Club, where Justin Timberlake was hosting a swell soiree for his new clothing line, William Rast. Also in the house were Christina Ricci, Elisha Cuthbert, Prince, Paris Hilton, JC Chasez, Jesse Metcalfe and Jewel.... And speaking of Cabana, promoter Pantera Sarah, who usually rocks Thursdays, is hosting a pre-Turkey Day party there on Wednesday with a canned food drive for the L.A. Mission.... While we're talking turkey, the Bigfoot Lodge is opening its doors for its annual "Misfits Thanksgiving," which includes $2 Pabst Blue Ribbon on tap. Beats yams.... Jenny McCarthy was the first celeb to get herself done at Suburbia, a new hair and nail salon in Studio City, which hosts a wine-and-cheese bash on Thursday evenings....